

Women and Girls are still neglected part of the Society in India – mostly in Rural areas. They work hard to maintain family – doing house-hold work and bringing up Children. But their financial contribution is less than men in their respective family. As a result, their Self-esteem seems to be less than normal.

With this idea, SAMPARC in association with Belladonna Organization, Italy started this unique Project for Women & Girls to Develop Confidence by helping them to become employable or capable of earning to contribute in the Gross Income of their respective family.

The journey started in August, 2015 for Skill Development of the Girls & Women of Village Khajurool and its surrounding villages near Varanasi, Uttar Pradesh, India.

The Courses are the same till date and Course-wise number of Trainees is given below. –

Sr. No.	Course	No. of Students
1	Beauty Parlour – Basic	43
	Beauty Parlour – Advanced	0
	Total	43
2	Tailoring – Basic	18
	Tailoring – Advanced	0
	Total	18
3	Zari Making – Basic	7
	Zari Making – Advanced	0
	Total	7

Presently Total 68 Trainees are getting benefit of our effort for their Skill Development. They will be promoted to the next level and there will be now admission in Basic Level of each course.

“Advanced+” category has been cancelled from all the Courses.

Both Theory & Practical Classes are going on regularly.

Till date, 501 Girls and Women have been Trained from this centre and are now able to contribute to their family earning.

The Project implementation Team is very much Strict about Discipline, Course Structure – everyone should pursue the Basic level to be promoted to further level – so that proper Skill Development of the Beneficiaries can be possible.

Project Manager Mr. Digvijay Singh is looking after the day to day activities of the Project and is working hard to enhance the activities to reach to more beneficiaries to create real social impact in the target area.

Total 5 Staff are managing the Project.

Mrs. Shabana Siddique is looking after the Project as Project Support Member. Apart from her regular Govt. Job, she keeps follow-up of all the happenings of the Project.

Success Story:

Vandana Patel is from a very poor family. Her Father is a Farmer. Now-a-days, Farming is not profitable enough and Farmers are suffering a lot to earn enough for survival. Financial Condition of the Family is very poor.

She has completed Tailoring course successfully and now she is working as Tailor. It is because of efforts of SAMPARC with the help of Belladonna Foundation, Italy that such beneficiaries from very poor community got opportunity of Skill Development to make them self-sustainable.

Vandana is from village Samadpur, 4 Km away from our Training Centre. She came to know about SAMPARC Vocational Training Centre from her Grand Father who was present there during Inauguration of the Centre in August, 2015. She came to the Centre for information and after discussion & counselling, she decided to pursue Tailoring Course.

She was very much interested in Tailoring and attended Classes regularly. She used to come by Cycle to the Centre with the dream that she will be able to earn for her family.

Now Vandana is earning Rs. 3000/- (Approx.) per month and is happily contributing to her family.

We can see that, she is more confident that before and she is happy and full of dignity for herself being able to contribute to her family income.

We wish her All the Best...!

Future Plan to reach to more beneficiaries:

To create real Social Impact, we need to reach to more Women and Girls from poor rural community of that Geographical Area. For this mission, SAMPARC is planning for bigger infrastructure with all required amenities to cater to the needs of the trainees.

Market Research & Analysis is going on to understand the need of Skilled Women in the Job market. Thus, new courses can be introduced.

At the same time, we are searching
